Greetings St. Anselm Families,

Happy last week of October! We are closing down quarter 1 and moving into quarter 2. Teachers grades will be in progress until Tuesday, November 1. I will be closing powerschool down over the weekend so the teachers can work on grades and comments. I will send an email and text when grades are updated and live. Please be patient as we have over 20 teachers in our building, and they are all updating at different times.

Here are some reminders and updates from my desk, for this week and next:

Our eighth graders will head to Discovery Day at DCHS on Friday. They will leave from St. Anselm at 8:15 and return at the end of the day. This is a great opportunity for our eighth graders as they will get to experience mass and four academic classes prior to heading to high school, among other fun events. They also get to be around students who attend other local, Catholic grade schools. These are potential classmates for our students in high school. Our students always have a great time at DCHS and learn so much in one, short day.

Many of our teachers will host Halloween celebrations between Friday and Monday. Your student's homeroom teacher will inform your student's class as to when the Halloween party is and what is needed. Additionally, many of our early childhood classes will wear costumes on various days. Again, please reach out to your homeroom teacher for guidelines on what your student should wear on or around Halloween. Even if some of our younger students are wearing costumes on Monday, ALL STUDENTS ARE WELCOME TO WEAR JEANS AND A HALLOWEEN (ORANGE OR BLACK) TOP ON MONDAY, OCTOBER 31! Remember dress should be appropriate!

This is a friendly reminder that we have a full day of school on Monday, October 31. We also have a full day of school on Tuesday, November 1. We will have mass on All Saints Day-- there is no late arrival because of Halloween! We have a short week next week due to parent/teacher conferences on Thursday, November 3 (11:30 dismissal and conferences in the evening) and we have no school on Friday, November 4 for the Boutique set-up. Our students will have plenty of time to rest up with a 3.5 day weekend!

Lastly, as we move into second quarter, we have some students who are slipping with their grades and behavior. I have had to speak with many students about thinking before they act and speak, and taking their education seriously. I ask that when report cards come out and conferences occur, that all parents take the time to set goals with their student(s). Our students need to think about the subjects they are needing to improve on and focus on doing a better job- one letter grade at a time. We also have some students who are in danger of too many write-ups and serving detention. If we get to that point, detention will be on Fridays at 3:00. Your student will know that they have to serve ahead of time, but I hope we don't reach that point quite yet! Please partner with me to talk about the best decisions our students can make in and out of school.

Thank you for all of your support and cooperation. Here's to a successful start of second quarter!
